

Broadcast companies that use the public airwaves must follow the guidelines of the law regardless of how big or powerful they are. This is an obvious necessity in a society based on the rule of law - but not in an oligarchy of influence. It seems however, that the rules do not pertain to all equally. That Sinclair broadcasting can force it's stations to run political propaganda just before a major election smacks of totalitarianism. We have always chided countries such as North Korea, Lybia or the former the USSR for this exact same technique- how low we have fallen!!!

As the upholder of our laws concerning the fair and reasonable use of public property, I urge you, the FCC to demand that Sinclar stop this blantant political ploy or- as an draconian but justified alternative demand that they air on the same stations a program that presents the other view - such as Mike Moore's Fahrenheit 911, Please do not let our own publicly owned airwaves be used as a propaganda weapon without recourse or redress.
